HOW ABOUT US?

When you determine your list of tax-deductible contributions, consider the North Carolina Boys Choir. We support ourselves through tuitions, concert fees, and occasional gifts from individuals. While other leading boychoirs are considered line items in either their state or city's annual budget, we receive no annual support from these sources. Instead, we depend on the ingenuity of our wonderful organization of dedicated parents to find projects that help to fund our needs each year. This organization is growing fast, however, and with its growth, it needs increased finances. We must increase our staff, as well as meet rising rent costs, larger telephone bills, and other increasing costs of operation, all of which are the natural effects of continued growth.

Won't you help us? We need your help! The North Carolina Boys Choir is a tax-exempt organization, so your contributions are deductible on your next tax cycle. Your contributions will help greatly toward the development of fine young men who will be the leaders of tomorrow!

THANK YOU FOR YOUR GENEROUS SUPPORT
